COHEN ISSUES ULTIMATUM TO STRIKING RICSHA MEN

Foremen Required To Keep Out Of Union

CASES IN COURT

Chinese Charged With Intimidation And Damage

As a result of the strike of ricsha foremen of the Star Ricsha Company, which has taken approximately one-third of Shanghai public ricshas out of service, five Chinese were prosecuted in the Mixed Court yesterday for intimidating; ricsha coolies or damaging vehicles, and officials of the company stated last night that reports of further damage and intimidation during yesterday indicated more prosecutions when court resumes tomorrow.

The strike last evening seemed no nearer a settlement, though a few more ricshas were in service than on the day previous and Star Ricsha Company officials seemed to think that there were signs of weakening on the part of the foremen who refused to take out licenses Monday. The strikers met yesterday to discuss the terms offered by the company and a draft of conditions of return to business offered by Mr. A. Cohen, head of the company. No definite conclusion was arrived at, however, it was reported and though some of the foremen appear inclined to accept the terms and resume activity, others are standing firmly against such a move. One of the stipulations made by the company is that foremen returning to work agree not to form or join a foremen's union, and this item is being bitterly opposed by the leaders in the strike movement.

FEW MORE OPERATING

Yesterday there were about 450 of the Star Company's 3,000 ricshas in operation, as against 300 for the day before, two more foremen accepting the licenses from the company. The unemployment of 2,600 ricshas affects in the neighborhood of 7,500 ricsha pullers and it is feared that unless the strike is adjusted within a few days the coolies, who subsist from day to day on their meagre earnings may create serious disturbances.

Intimidation of foremen who are hiring out ricshas and coolies pulling these ricshas by loafers, supposedly hired by the strikers, is charged. Late on Monday night, Mr. Cohen said yesterday, five of the 31 foremen formerly in the company's employ came to him and said they were satisfied with the terms made them and wished to take out licenses. The licenses, aggregating about 400 mostly for ricshas stationed in Frenchtown, were given out. But, Mr. Cohen said, yesterday morning three of the foremen, having been intimidated by the others, returned their licenses.

REQUIRES AGREEMENT

The head of the ricsha company declares that he has made as many concessions as are possible or could be expected and if the striking foremen wish to come back into the company's employ they must sign the following agreement:

"I hereby agree to come back and start work again as a foreman of the Star Ricsha Company and faithfully to abide by all the rules of the company. I will pay the bills due for the ricshas taken out by me at 6 p.m. every day at the company's offices. I will not join or belong to any association or society or union of ricsha foremen. Failing compliance by me with the above the company may at any time retake all ricshas in my possession and cease to employ me as foreman without any notice."

Short jail sentences were imposed in the Mixed Court yesterday on four Chinese charged with intimidation of ricsha pullers or damage to ricshas. Three defendants in one case were sentenced to two weeks each and the fourth man, charged with intimidating a coolie on Ward Road, was given two days.

The three defendants in the first case were charged with preventing a coolie from work on East Yalu Road and with damaging the ricsha to the extent of $1.

The coolie complainant said that he had left a fare at a Yalu Road teashop when he was approached

Yak-Tail Trails

A Romantic Trek From The Land of The Midnight Sun Through The Heart Of Asia, The Fantastic Land of Mongolia, And Mysterious Thibet To Shanghai.

By Larry Lehrbas

(As told originally in Russian by Serge Eggert)

In days of old Ghengiz Khan, the greatest conqueror in the history of the world, his grandson, Kublai Khan, and other ancient rulers of the Cowherd Empire of Mongolia, jogged over the plains and mountains of the heart or Asia with armies of barbaric splendor beneath the standard of the yak-tail.

Dashing horsemen all, they rode like the Centaurs of mythology, half-horse, half-man, and under their proud yak-tail battle flags conquered, first their enemies from the boundaries of ancient Cathay to Lake Baikal, and then Southern Russia, Bokhara, Armenia, Turkestan and the barbarian tribes in between. Then the proudly dangling yak-tails painted a trail of death and destruction into China, the most cultured empire of the time, until the Sung emperors were overthrown and the Manchus set up on the Imperial Dragon Throne.

The Mongol hordes became the rulers of practically all Asia, their conquering standards flying from the China Sea to the ice-bound River Dnieper and from the tropical jungles of Malayia to the frozen tundra of Siberia,—the mightiest empire ever beaten together in the history of the world.

A BOY VAGABOND

It was in the hoof-prints of the horses and camels of these ancient, romantic and picturesque conquering hordes that Serge Eggert, 23-year-old Russian student, trekked in a 10,000-mile wanderlust that has just ended in Shanghai.

Serge Eggert is a native of Petrograd and lived there in the days that now seem pages from the history of the Middle Ages. The Czar and Imperial Court he knew has vanished, and in its place sits Lenine, Trotsky and the Commissars of the Soviet, wielding power even more autocratic than that of Peter the Great. The old order has changed into the most monumental radical experiment in government ever attempted by men. The old Russia is dead: the new Russia is starving.

As a student at the Emperor Peter I Polytechnic Institute, Serge Eggert never dreamed that he would some day sleep in the yurts of the Tatar hordes that once swept like a great flood over his native land, drink from the gorgeous-graven teacups of Tibetan lamas wielding an all-powerful hand over the teeming millions of Central Asia with their witchcraft, dark magic and superstitious symbols, and ride the trails that Ghengiz Khan rode beneath the barbaric yak-tail. Such tales were for the story books.

ENTERS MARINE COLLEGE

And even when the black spectre of war loomed on the horizon of his beloved Russia and Eggert, a stripling boy, entered the famous Marine Cadet College at Kronstadt, the Gibraltar of the Arctic on the Island of Kotlin, Gulf of Finland, twenty miles from Petrograd, his mind was not stirred by such wild imagination. At Kronstadt he learned seamanship, and especially marine engineering, not the history of the mongrel tribes of Asia that had surged over the continent hundreds of years before, and then receded like the ebb tide until they were once more swallowed in the mysterious fastnesses and deserts of their breeding grounds.

The mighty struggle of the Russian armies to stem the tide of Germans—to him the Huns of the world—was first and foremost in the young cadet's mind, until the Russian armies were pushed back and back, until they lost heart and broke and the people of Russia, long bitter from the yoke of the Czars' turned against their ruler in what is now known as the First Revolution.

The tragic story the Marine Cadets of Kronstadt, all more boys, played in that bloody event is already written on the pages of history and need not be repeated. Serge Eggert was one of them. He, too, was one of the valiant 400 cadets chosen as the personal bodyguard of Czar Nicholas when the once-mighty 'White Czar' sought refuge at Sarskoe Selo. Eggert stayed four days at Sarskoe Selo, a watcher in the wings at one of the most poignant tragedies of modern times. He was there when Alexander Kerensky visited the Czar and after several conferences secured his abdication. Then he was ordered back to Petrograd.

FLEES BLOODY RUSSIA

The Revolutionists then began their campaign to exterminate the Royalists. Eggert received warning that the Kronstadt cadets were marked youths because of their loyal sympathies and declares that a

AMERICAN BODIES GIVING DINNER TO JUDGE LOBINGIER

Affair Marks Conclusion Of Twenty Years Service As U. S. Court Judge

Under the auspices of leading American organisations a dinner is to be given in honor of Judge Charles Sumner Lobingier of the United States Court for China on the evening of October 23 at the French Club.

Judge Lobingier, who has been Judge of the United States Court for China for nearly nine years, this month is completing twenty years of service as an American federal judge and the dinner is being arranged as an expression of esteem and appreciation on the part of the American community of Shanghai. The organisations under whose auspices the affair is being given are the Far Eastern American Bar Association, The American Association of China, The American Chamber of Commerce and The American University Club.

Ladies are being invited to the dinner and it is announced that at its conclusion an address will be given by Judge Lobingier and a dancing party then is to be held. Reservations for the dinner are being made with Mr. D. J. Lewis, Secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce.

WU TO SUPPRESS CHEKIANG, THEN MUKDEN, REPORT

General Shifting Of Posts Planned As Chihli Head Seeks Unification

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 6.—The present plan of General Wu Pei-fu is to unify Kiangsu and Chekiang within this year and conduct his campaign solely against Fengtien next year. He has asked President Li Yuan-hung to issue a mandate appointing Tuchun Feng Yu-hsiang of Honan as Military Governor of Anhui, General Chang Fu-lai successor to Tuchun Feng, General Li Ting-yu as Kiangsu Tuchun and General Chi Shih-yuan as Chief of the General Staff.

Another report states that Chi will be appointed Minister of War to succeed General Chang Shao-tseng, who will become Tuchun of Hupeh, so that Kiangsu, Anhui and Kiangsi can be united in their campaign against Chekiang.

Since the writing of the above correspondence, the Anhui Tuchunship has been abolished by a presidential mandate. Chang Weng-sen, the present tuchun, has been given an Irish promotion and ordered to go up to Peking. It is expected that Chang will defy the order, in which case General Feng may be called, as planned, to the Tuchunate of Anhui.—Editor.

SHIP OWNERS IN AMERICA DISMAYED BY DRY DECISION

Issue Statement Predicting Loss Of Business

BARS ARE LOCKED

No Instructions Received Here By Capt. Isler

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 9.—The new liquor ruling is received with great misgivings in shipping circles. Customs officials locked and sealed all bars and liquor supplies on board vessels arriving yesterday, even the private supplies of officers and seamen. The American Steamship Owners' Association has issued a statement contending that American vessels operating to South America and the Orient and elsewhere being unable to serve liquor will lose their passenger trade to foreign competitors.

That part of the Pacific ocean traversed by vessels owned by the United States shipping board, or operated under the American flag, is to become dry under a ruling promulgated in Washington by treasury officials last week, following an opinion by Attorney General Daugherty that the prohibition amendment applies to the ocean as well as to the United States proper, as far as American owned or operated vessels are concerned.

This, of course, means that outward bound passengers from Shanghai, if travelling on Admiral Line, Pacific Mail or China Mail boats (except the Nile, which is under British registry) will step off of the wharf into a desert, unless they carry a supply of lubricants on their hips, after the manner of the residents of that dear homeland.

Capt. Isler, representative of the shipping board in Shanghai, has not received instructions as yet concerning the application of the new regulations, nor have the shipping companies here.

The Pacific Mail has five trans-Pacific liners, the Presidents Cleveland, Pierce, Taft, Wilson and Lincoln, and the Admiral Line also has five liners, the Presidents Jackson, Grant, Jefferson, Madison and McKinley, which will go dry under the new order. Two vessels of the China Mail, the Nanking and China will also go dry. The Nile is under the British flag. All freighters for which the Columbia Pacific and Struthers and Barry are agents will become floating Saharas and all Dollar Line vesels under the American flag are likewise affected.

President Orders Ship Bars Closed

(China Press Service)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—President Harding issued instructions late this afternoon ordering the immediate enforcement of Attorney General Daugherty's ruling prohibiting the transportation or sale of alcoholic liquors on American ships whether publicly or privately owned, stating that such practises were illegal, It was likewise illegal according to the attorney general's opinion for foreign vessels to sell or transport liquor within the three mile zone.

This liquor ruling applies to all Shipping Board vessels plying between the Philippines and Honolulu and other U. S. Possessions but does not affect the Panama Canal trade.

Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board stated that foreign steamship lines would undoubtedly enjoin the United States Government from enforcing the Daugherty opinion. In the event that such an injunction is granted foreign ships would be permitted to bring in liquor until the final decision of the United States Supreme Court, he said.

Mr. Lasker predicted that if the Supreme court upheld the Daugherty decision respecting foreign vessels, Vancouver would be built up at the expense of Portland and Seattle by the im-

BIG CROWD OUT FOR HURON BALL AT TOWN HALL

Thousand Attend Successful Affair Arranged By Crew

With two orchestras dispensing music and the big Town Hall drill hall swathed with bunting for the occasion, nearly a thousand people gathered last evening for the big dance given by the men of the U. S. S. Huron, flagship of the Asiatic fleet.

Admiral E. A. Anderson, Commander-in-Chief of the American Asiatic Fleet, led the grand march, which was participated in by 800 dancers and the program continued on into the small hours. A tasty and elaborate buffet supper as well as punch was provided by the sailor hosts and the affair was voted an entire success by the big guest list.

The music was provided by the Huron band and George Warn's orchestra, which vied with each other in the rendition of a program of up to the minute jazz. Neat programs were provided giving the dance list and menu.

TO REINFORCE FUKIEN WITH CANTON TROOPS

Kwangsi Expedition Ordered To Area Where Little Hsu Is Active

(Dah Tong News Agency)

Peking, October 9.—Seven urgent telegraphic messages were received by the President and the Cabinet Saturday and Sunday on the Fukien situation. Strict secrecy was observed regarding the contents of the telegrams. However, it is reported that both Shuikow and Kutien have been lost by the government troops, and Foochow is threatened.

General Wu Pei-fu proposes to utilise General Chen Chiung-ming's troops for the relief of Fukien and has agreed to the arrangement of General Chen to despatch the troops of Gen. Shen Hun-yin, which are now in Kiangsi, direct to Fukien without first marching to Kwangsi as originally planned.

Paotingfu, however, assumes an almost non-committal attitude towards the Fukien crisis. The president and the Cabinet have both requested General Wu Pei-fu to take the initiative in all matters concerning the clash. Wu has requested the Central Government to remit the naval expenses for Admiral Tu Shih-kwei at once so that the latter can proceed to Fukien waters.

The Office of the General Staff has again wired to General Tsai Chen-hsun of Kiangsi to despatch some troops to Fukien at once.

NEW U. S. BONDS

CORONER'S JURY FINDS TUCKER'S DEATH ACCIDENT

Believed Member Of Crew Of U.S.S. Black Hawk Fell From Side Of Ship

Testimony that was given yesterday afternoon at an inquest held in connection with the drowning of E. W. Tucker, American seaman of the U. S. S. Black Hawk, disclosed that Tucker lost his life last Friday morning after he had fallen into the Whangpoo from the ship's side. The hearing was conducted by U. S. Commissioner N. E. Lurton sitting as coroner and according to the verdict returned by the jury the drowning was accidental.

Tucker, who was 25 years of age, was assigned to duty as bowman on the barge attached to the Black Hawk and it is thought that in climbing down the latter over the side of the Black Hawk to board the barge he lost his footing and fell into the river. No one actually witnessed the tragedy.

Any theory that Tucker had met with foul play was dissipated by the testimony given by Dr. Thomas B. Dunn and Dr. C. E. Rider, Commander of the American naval medical corps who conducted the autopsy. Both physicians said no evidence that Tucker had met with violence before his death was found and both concluded from the condition of the body that drowning had been the cause of death.

Inspector Thomas Mellows of the River Police testified concerning the finding of the body not far from the police hulk Friday evening by Chinese sampanmen. It was first thought to be the body of a Chinese and it was not ascertained that the victim was a foreigner until the body was taken from the water and sent to the mortuary.

Members of the crew of the Black Hawk told at length of Tucker's movements on the Black Hawk and on the barge on which he step Thursday night. He was last seen alive at breakfast aboard the Black Hawk Friday morning.

Those who served on the jury were Messrs. E. T. M. Van Bergen, W. A. Adams, J. B. Powell, Roy O. Bennett, Paris Klatt and A. S. Glemby.

PROF. EINSTEIN TO VISIT CHINA; MAY TALK HERE

Letter Received Here Tells Of Plans For Tour

Professor Albert Einstein, propounder of the Einstein theory of relativity, who is on his way to Japan, will visit China and may deliver a lecture in Shanghai besides speaking in Peking, according to word received here by Dr. Maximilian Pfister, of Tung Chi Medical School, a friend of the distinguished scientist.

Professor Einstein, in a letter to Dr. Pfister, written from Berlin, says that he expects to deliver lectures in various cities of China. As his arrangements with the Peking University have not yet been finally made he has asked Dr. Pfister to communicate with the China institution and fix a definite program in order that he may conclude his other arrangements.

KEMALISTS' ATTITUDE TOWARD TERMS IS NOW QUESTION BEFORE ALLIES

London Now Hopeful That Premier Poincare's Plan For Settlement Of Near East Difficulty May Prove Successful

TURKS ARE CAVILLING, NEW REPORT

Clamor For Lloyd George's Resignation Not Taken Seriously In Political Circles, Particularly While Crisis Remains Unsettled

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 9.—Will the Kemalists accept the terms of the new Allied agreement, is the question of the moment. It is generally agreed by the morning papers that they should meet all the reasonable Turkish demands and if our French ally now persuades the Kemalists that she is in earnest about the latest agreement there is good reason then that M. Poincare may prove right in his belief of an early settlement, though according to the latest news the Kemalists are at present cavilling with regard to the number of Turkish gendarmerie to be admitted into Thrace.

The Allies' protest with regard to the violation of the Ismid zone is reported to have elicited a categoric statement by Ismet Pasha that orders have been again issued to cease military movements in the zones. Meanwhile, it appears that Russia, where the extremists are reported to have carried out a plan for mobilisation of South and Southeastern Russia, has plainly warned Angora that even a temporary discussion of the question of the Straits without Russian participation would be regarded as a breach of the Treaty and engagements.

In spite of the clamor in various quarters for Mr. Lloyd George's resignation there is no reason to think that at present he has the slightest inclination to give up. The Times probably voices a wide view even amongst critics in deprecating any demand for the immediate resignation of individual Ministers so long as the crisis is unsettled.

Clubwomen To Give Children's Matinee At Apollo Thursday

A children's matinee for the purpose of adding to the American Woman's Club building fund is to be given at the Apollo Theater Thursday by the Philippine Division of the Club.

The theater management has donated the use of the theater and through the courtesy of the Universal Film Company a collection of excellent pictures, including topical features and comedy, will be shown, providing an enjoyable entertainment for youngsters and grown-ups. The program will start at 4 and end at about 6 o'clock.

HOLD RECEPTION TODAY, BIRTHDAY OF THE REPUBLIC

Consular Body And Officials To Call At Foreign Bureau

Today is the eleventh anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic. All Chinese official bureaus, schools and organisations will be closed for business. There will be a reception to members of the Consular Body, Municipal officers, Chinese officials and prominent merchants by the local Bureau of Foreign Affairs, Bubbling Well Road at 11 o'clock. Special Commissioner C. F. Hsu will head the reception line and will be assisted by his secretaries, Messrs. S. K. Chen, N. T. Yang, C. T. Waung and other Chinese officials.

A number of schools have suggested the holding of a demonstration against disarmament, following the proposal of the school in Peking, but General Ho Feng-lin, the local Defense Commissioner, has ordered that no such demonstration be allowed within his jurisdiction.

The Street Unions will hold a joint celebration at the Southeastern University, Avenue Joffre this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All shops have been requested to fly the national colors throughout the day.

The Y.M.C.A. will hold open house for its members and friends during the day and at eight o'clock this evening a program will be held at Martyrs' Memorial Hall in the course of which Mr. Zau Zoong-hui, editor of the Republic Daily News, will speak on Republicanism.

The exchange banks will be closed to business today and there will be no sessions of the Mixed Court.

Ultimatum Handed To Gen. Harington

(China Press Service)

London, Oct. 8.—It was learned from official sources here today that Thursday's meeting of the Allied and Turkish representatives at Mudania was adjourned because of Ismet Pasha's handing General Harington an ultimatum demanding a reply to the Turkish demands concerning Thrace within 24 hours.

The Turks especially insisted on the immediate evacuation of Thrace by the Greeks and the organisation of a Turkish civil administration in East Thrace immediately. Some London reports say that the evacuation of West Thrace was demanded also.

Following the adjournment General Harington and the other Allied representatives returned to Mudania on Friday after asserting that the Turks would not be allowed to pass the Straits before the peace conference.

(China Press Service)

London, Oct. 8.—The population of Eastern Thrace is being armed against the Turks by the Greeks, according to reports reaching here. There has also been a concentration of 10,000 Greek troops in East Thrace.

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Oct. 7.—The Angoran Ministers, Fethi Bey and Kiazim Pasha, have arrived at Mudania in response to a request by Ismet Pasha.

A British communique states that the conference resumed today. The sitting was short owing to the late arrival of the Allied Generals at Mudania. Ismet Pasha's attitude has softened since he received Angora's reply to the Allied Note. The Turkish concentrations on Ismid are increasing. The situation at Chanak is stationary. The Turks are withdrawing from contact with our troops, Sir Charles Harington has tranquilised Ismet Pasha regarding the alleged burning of 40 buildings in Thrace.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 8.—A semi-official interpretation of the Inter-Allied agreement says pending the conclusion of peace the Allies will keep the troops where they are at present stationed, namely, at Constantinople, Chataldja, Gallipoli, Chanak and along the Maritza. The neutral zone will be reduced with a view to putting a wider space between the British and Kemalists.

The Peace Conference should be held November 1, preferably at Scutari or Prinkipo, the countries formerly suggested will attend the opening stages but when the question of placing the Straits under the League of Nations is being considered Russia, Bulgaria, the Ukraine and Georgia may be invited to explain their points of view.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 8.—Following a further meeting of the Cabinet a communique was issued in London yesterday stating that M. Poincare and Lord Curzon had reached an agreement that the Greek Army should be invited to evacuate Eastern Thrace on the understanding that the Allies occupy the territory for a month after the evacuation in order to guarantee the safety of the non-Turkish populations.

The Turkish representatives at Mudania have been informed that effect will only be given to the agreement provided the Turks accept the remaining conditions laid down in the Allied note on September 23, particularly respecting the neutral zones.

Greek Decision To Get Out Confirmed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 9.—The Greek decision to evacuate East Thrace is officially confirmed.

Athens, Oct. 9.—The Government is continuing negotiations with regard to the period in which evacuation of East Thrace is to be carried out.

The Greek newspapers learn that M. Venizelos has received formal assurances with regard to the maintenance of Greek sovereignty in Western Thrace.

Paris, Oct. 8.—The text of the Agreement, drafted at the conference between M. Poincare, Lord Curzon and Signor Galli, to which the British Government has adhered, states:

"The Three Allied Governments have agreed that the Greek troops shall be invited to retire as soon as possible west of the Maritza. In the territories so evacuated the Allied Governments will assure by means of provisional inter-Allied occupation the maintenance of order and security until the establishment in East Thrace of Turkish civil administration and Turkish gendarmerie. This establishment should occur within a month after the withdrawal of the Greek troops. On the expiry of this period the Allied troops will only continue to occupy for the duration of the conference certain points on the right bank of the Martiza and the districts they are at present occupying."

London, Oct. 8.—Consequent on the Paris agreement the Mudania Conference opened again at noon today. It is understood that the extent of the Turkish evacuation of the neutral zone will be left to Sir Charles Harington but, if the Turks prove their sincerity by a substantial withdrawal, no difficulty is anticipated. It is presumed that the Greek evacuation of Eastern Thrace will commence forthwith.

Lord Curzon arrived in London tonight. He said that he hoped that a reasonable settlement of the Near Eastern question would be reached. The crisis could be settled only if the Allies acted in complete solidarity. He declared that the Allies had overcome a situation fraught with considerable risk.

The Cabinet will meet tomorrow to receive Lord Curzon's detailed report.

The Paris press pays a tribute to Lord Curzon's success.

Paris, Oct. 8.—It is reported from Athens that the Cabinet has instructed the Greek delegates at Mudania not to give way on questions with regard to Thrace except in the face of decisions taken by the Powers unanimously.

A long telegram from M. Venizelos giving the result of his interview with M. Poincare and advising Greece to abandon her attitude of absolute intransigeance influenced the decision of the Government to agree to the heavy sacrifice involved in the evacuation of Thrace.

Consternation prevails in Athens.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—A British communique says that the Ismid neutral zone has been violated at several points. The Allied Generals have protested. The Turkish forces have not been reinforced on the Chanak front, where no artillery is reported.

Athens, Oct. 8.—A general depression is evident with regard to the situation, which was the ment be referred to the British and Italian Cabinets. The French Cabinet has already approved the agreement.

subject of a long discussion by the Cabinet, after which the Greek delegates were instructed by telegram to assume a conciliatory attitude.

France has severely warned the Greek Government against the despatch of reinforcements to Thrace.

The newspaper Hestia publishes a report of a massacre on the Asiatic shore of the sea of Marmora.

London Gratified By New Agreement To Work Together

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 8.—That Britain, France and Italy are again marching together as the result of the Paris agreement has given lively satisfaction and is reflected in Sunday's editorial articles.

The Empire is now absolutely clear of the menace of war, declares the Sunday Express, which hails the agreement as marking the triumph of the peacemakers' and hopes that the French and British will unite in imposing the terms of it. The Turks and Greeks must not be allowed to fight out the issue themselves if either rejects them.

The predominating note of the writers of the leading articles is a vigorous demand for peace. Mr. J. L. Garvin, up to the present largely a Government supporter, in sensational articles in the Observer declares that Mr. Lloyd George's position is quite untenable and urges him to resign without delay. He says that Britain's Near East policy has led to a most gigantic and irreparable muddle and the Government has irrevokably lost the Great War as far as the East is concerned. He concludes by demanding a reversal of its policy and independent negotiation for peace with Russia and Turkey if an effort to work with France and Italy fails.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—At yesterday morning's meeting at Mudania General Sir Charles Harington requested a fresh adjournment, mentioning the Paris consultations.

Ismet Pasha requested the release of Turkish civil and military prisoners. He said the Turks had liberated the Greek civilian prisoners and would release the prisoners of war after the conclusion of peace. The Allied General agreed to forward the Turkish demands.

London, Oct. 7.—The end of the Near East crisis is in sight is the cheerful view of an authoritative statement after the Cabinet meeting to discuss the Paris agreement. All now depends on Turkish acceptance of the Paris formula which is contingent on the Turks respecting the neutral zones.

In addition to the points already cabled, the Allies have agreed to withdraw their contingents, ensuring the Turks of control of Thrace a month after the Greek evacuation.

Paris, Oct. 8.—M. Poincare stated today that in order to prevent new inadmissible Turkish demands, about eight French battalions would remain during the peace conference, half at Chatalja and half on the western bank of the Maritza.

Constantinople, Oct. 8. — The Premier of Italy has ordered General Moudell, the Italian representative at the Mudania Conference, to support the Turkish claims regarding Thrace.

London, Oct. 8.—The London press considers the Near Eastern situation as still very serious but hopes that Lord Curzon's diplomatic skill will save the situation.

The Paris press anticipates a way out of the present difficulties by some sort of compromises. All British Cabinet members have remained in London over the week-end.

Silk Shop Damaged In Sunday Blaze

The ground and second floors of a lace, silk and satin shop at Q139 off Tientsin Road were badly damaged by fire that broke out at 7:26 o'clock Sunday night from unknown causes.

Quick and efficient work by the Central Division of the Fire Department confined the blaze to the building in which it started, despite the fact that it showed signs of spreading to adjoining buildings.

GEN. FENG TRANSFERRED

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Kaifeng, Oct. 5.—General Feng Yu-hsiang left here today for Loyang and will probably return on Oct. 7. It is rumored his visit to General Wu Pei-fu concerns the latter's suggestion that General Feng should be transferred to Inspector-General of Suiyuan, Chahar and Jehol.

number of the cadets were weighed with iron chains and balls and marched into the waters of the Gulf of Finland, never to be heard of again. With five other cadets he fled to Marseilles on a French brig, the Jeanne Darq.

The next two years Eggert and the five cadets were students at the l'Ecole de Marine, cruising on the Commander de Trois and serving as a French cadet until the month of January, 1922, when with two other cadets, one a Russian and one French, he left for Helsingfors, Finland, with the intention of re-entering Russia. At Helsingfors they received first-hand reports of the carnival of misery that held swaying soviet Russia, much worse, he says, than they had been led to believe, and without sufficient funds to return to France immediately were forced to seek employment.

They were offered jobs on a salmon trawler, the Strella, out of Helsingfors on a fishing cruise, and for the next month battled with the snow and ice of the exceptionally cold January weather in Northern Russia. They chopped ice from the decks, melted ice from the ropes and sails, drew in nets bagging with hundreds of flopping fish, piled the frozen fish in the gaping holds for a month, until the little trawler made port at Archangel on the rim of the Arctic Circle.

Archangel, once a mighty trading center and the only part of ancient Muscovy, held them only a day or two, and then on up the river to Tamar, a little fishing vilage, where they unloaded their catch. With the frozen fish disposed of there was no longer any need for services and they were put ashore with a few roubles, their month's wages.

FROM SHIP TO DOG-SLED

Tamar, despite its insignificant size, was humming with activity in those early February days because several dog-trains were about to start to trade supplies for furs among the Kirkiz tribes. One dog-train was about to start and was two men short.. Eggert and Andre and Mure, his two cadet companions, prevailed upon the fur trader to take all three and they would go—where it would lead them they did not know, but to live in Tamar without funds was impossible.

Seven sleds made up their dog-train. Each sled was pulled by twelve small white dogs continually snarling and biting, twisting the harness into ice-caked snarls and knots. Two heavily clad in furs and the three tenderfeet on different sleds, made up the expedition to pierce the vast tundra wastes of Northern Russia—a cold, frozen land they knew nothing of, but which held in store for them terrors then unknown. The whips cracked, loud shouts from drivers spurred the yelping dogs on—and Serge Eggert and his two cadet companions were off on the first stretch of the long yak-tail trail.

(To be continued tomorrow)

The story of 'The Yak-Tail Trail' followed by Serge Eggert of which the above is the introductory instalment, is not told in the first person as, although well educated in Russian and English, he speaks only what little English was taught him by an American missionary in the backwash of Asia.

Illustrations of the picturesque customs and peoples of Mongolia and Thibet by Arcady, whose cartoons and pictures in THE CHINA PRESS have made such a big hit, will appear when the yak-trail enters those mysterious countries.

BUDDHIST PRIEST, REFUSED ALMS, CHOPS OFF HAND

In a moment of religious frenzy following the refusal of a Chinese to contribute to a temple fund, a Buddhist priest named Tseu Li took a meat chopper and struck off his left hand in Seward Road early yesterday morning.

The matter was reported to the police and the priest was found lying in an alleyway and was rushed to St. Luke's Hospital in a serious condition. A charge of attempted suicide was brought against the man in the Mixed Court yesterday and the case was remanded for two weeks.

The High Cost of Dying

THE high cost of living is bad enough. There is really only one thing worse, and that is the high cost of dying. Have you ever considered seriously what it will mean to your dependents if you pass away without making adequate provision for their support?

PERHAPS you have not considered the possibility of leaving this earth just yet. But you will undoubtedly shuffle off sooner or later. Most people have, you know, and you will probably be no exception. One thing you can do, however, and that is make provision for those who are now dependent on you for support. Household and other bills will continue to come in, and the H. C. of L. will not ease up on them in any way.

THE high cost of your dying will not be borne by you personally, but it will be borne by your dependents. Do you feel you are doing the right thing by them if you go along without protection? The only sure protection is an adequate life insurance policy in a sound Company. Have you increased your insurance in proportion to the increased cost of living in recent years?

CASE INVOLVING SALVAGE CLAIMS HAS NOVEL POINT

Plaintiffs Who Saved Timber In Recent Typhoon Suing For Work Performed

Whether compensation legally may be claimed for work performed gratituously in the salvaging of property is a question that is to be decided by Registrar G. W. King in the British Supreme Court in a case in which Mr. H. Hansen and Mr. H. B. Charlesworth are suing the China Import and Export Lumber Company.

Indirectly the suit is an outcome of the typhoon that swept over Shanghai on August 6. Mr. Tycho Wing, who appeared for the plaintiffs yesterday set forth that his clients were on The Bund when the typhoon was at its height and observed a large raft of timber dashing against a pontoon at Peking Road.

Several employes of the Public Works Department were breaking the raft up and pushing the planks into the stream in order to save the pontoon, he said, and some of the timber was being taken to the Pootung side by sampan coolies. The two men, realising that the timber floating would be a menace to navigation got several ricsha coolies together and gathered the timber, piling about 280 pieces on the foreshore.

Then about midnight, Mr. Wing said, Mr. T. P. Cranston of the China Import and Export Lumber Company arrived on the scene and claimed the timber. The timber was accordingly delivered to the company and piled on the site of the Yokohama Specie Bank on the Bund. Mr. Hansen and Mr. Charlesworth, he said, claimed $100 each for the work they had done, having worked from 8 o'clock one night until 4 o'clock the next morning.

The lumber company admitted most of the items in the claim except the claim for motor lorry hire and the renumeration of the two men. The company had offered $100 for their services but they had refused the offer.

Mr Cranston, assistant to the manager of the lumber company, testified that he had met Mr. Hansen on the Bund during the storm and after discussing the question had asked that the timber be piled on the Japanese bank site. Mr. Hansen had said that a report had been made to the police that the timber was being stolen, he said, and he had consequently gone to the station and explained everything to the police.

He had agreed to pay for the coolie hire, he said, but the motor lorries were waiting to transport the timber to Mr. Hansen's home on Avenue Haig so he suggested that they be sent away. He then left two experienced coolies in charge of the timber.

Mr. Charlesworth then testified that Mr. Cranston had told him the timber was worth Tls. 2.40 per piece. Mr. Mancel Reece, representing the company, asked if the defendants would have to pay for services that were gratituous and unasked for.

"The company would not have recovered a dollar's worth of timber without our services," Mr. Charlesworth replied.

Mr. Charlesworth then asserted that it was not the amount but the principle of the thing that had brought the suit about, and that he would not have come into court if an amicable settlement could have been arrived at.

Cohen Puts Down New Ricsha Terms

by the trio and others and told that there was a strike on in his company and that he could not do business with the company's ricsha. The third accused then got into the ricsha, the second accused pulled it to a piece of waste ground and the first accused took off the valves and let the air out of the tires. A constable arrested the first accused and at the station he told Sub-Inspector Mackenzie that he and other unemployed coolies had been sent out by one of the foremen to stop all Star ricshas and disable them. The man accused, however, came to the station himself and denied this and showed the police a handbill he was distributing calling on the coolies not to create any disturbances.

The fifth Chinese charged, a youngster of 13, created a lot of laughter in the courtroom, though there was little humor in the situation for himself. The youth, who gave his occupation as that of brass smith, was arrested by a Sikh constable as he was sprinting across East Kashing Road bridge, hotly pursued by Sz Ah-faung, foreman in charge of a Star Ricsha depot on Kashing Road. Sz said he had watched the lad, whose name is Taung Soong-fah, sneak into the yard and remove the valves from two ricshas. When young Taung was searched at the station Sub-Inspector Mackenzie found 13 other valve caps in his clothing.

It developed that the boy was the son of a ricsha coolie employed by the Express Ricsha company and the father was in court yesterday and testified that the 13 extra caps found were given by him to his son, he having taken them from ricshas under his care in order that they might not be stolen. This point was not contested so the Court contented itself with delivering a stern lecture to the youthful defendant, the Magistrate winding up by instructing the father to go into executive session with his son and administer a little salutary chastisement.

The elder Taung fervently promised to carry out the order and as the two neared the rear of the court room he reached out with one hand and took a firm grip of his offspring's neck while with the other hand he administered a resounding box to Taung, Jr's. ear. He was following the first lick up with a loud series of replicas when the Magistrate intervened and told him to continue the lesson outside Court.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 8—Two American army flyers, Lieutenants MacReady and Kelly, broke all world's records for endurance flights in a heavier-than-air machine here today when they landed at Rich Field at 5:10 o'clock this afternoon after having been in the air for 35 hours and 18 minutes.

Lieut. John A. MacReady also broke the world's record for altitude in September, 1921, at Dayton, Ohio, when he piloted his machine 41,000 feet into the sky, when his engine coughed and died. Lieut. MacReady glided safely to the ground after having been in the air 1 hour and 47 minutes.

ADMIRAL PHELPS, YANGTSZE PATROL COMMANDER, HERE

Twenty-Two Warships And Two American Admirals Now Are In Shanghai

Admiral W. W. Phelps, who recently succeeded Admiral W. H. G. Bullard as commander of the Yangtsze patrol of the American Asiatic fleet, arrived in Shanghai from Hankow Sunday on the s.s. Tuckwo.

Admiral Phelps relieved Admiral Bullard shortly before Admiral E. A. Anderson relieved Admiral Joseph Strauss in command of the Asiatic fleet. Admiral Phelps is a graduate of the Naval Academy, class of 1889, gradually advancing in rank until he served as a captain on the U.S.S. Bancroft during the Spanish-American War.

He was Executive Officer on the Mayflower, the President of the United States' yacht in 1905-06, and then served on the Kentucky and the Constellation and Delaware. He then successively commanded the Iowa, Baltimore Reina Mercedes and Louisiana. During the war he was assigned to duty with the Atlantic Fleet.

His arrival gives the American Navy two Admirals and twenty-two ships, the greatest concentration of American naval forces ever assembled on the China station.

Abbott Sails On Financial Mission

Mr. Abbott, the American financier, left Vancouver for China on October 5, according to a Peking telegram. His mission will be to request the repayment of the G$5,500,000 tobacco and wine loan from the Peking government and investigate the present financial conditions.

Mr. Abott, it is understood, suggested to the American financiers their withdrawal from the New Consortium in view of the failure of Peking to meet its obligations, but the latter ignored his suggestion.

BARDARSON SAILS

Mr. W. S. Bardarson, who resigned from the post of manager of the Astor House, sailed for America with Mrs. Bardarson on the Canadian Pacific Steamer Empress of Russia Saturday night. On the occasion Saturday afternoon when Mr. Bardarson took leave of members of the Astor House staff with whom he has been associated for the past four years he was presented with a handsome solid gold cigarette case appropriately engraved and Chinese friends gave him a noisy farewell with firecrackers when the tender left the jetty. Mr. and Mrs. Bardarsen are going to Seattle.

ST. ANDREW'S MEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Officers for the new year were elected and a gratifying report on the past twelve months' activities was presented at the annual general meeting of the St. Andrew's Society of Shanghai, held yesterday.

Officers elected for the ensuing twelve month were as follows: Mr. C. J. Scott, president; Mr. C. H. Rutherford, vice-president; members of the Committee—Messrs. C. M. Bain, C. T. Beath, N. S. Brown, J. G. Clay, R. G. Dowie, John Johnstone, A. B. Lowson, Donald Mackenzie, D. McColl, Ranald G. McDonald, C. Gordon Mackie, Hugh Martin, A. V. Monk, J. R. Moodie, Dr. H. Couper Patrick, C. W. Porter and John Prentice.

The proposal to hold the usual Caledonian Ball as usual this year was passed without discussion.

The retiring president, Mr. Alistair S. Campbell, in the course of his speech, referred with gratification to the successful functions held during the past year, to the increased membership of the Society and to the increase in subscriptions, which was $300 more than last year.

The membership of the Society is now 744, 39 new members enrolling during the last year.

ARMSTRONG HELD FOR U. S. COURT IN FORGERY CASE

Prisoner Arrested In Siberia After Long Chase Waives Preliminary Hearing

L. S. Armstrong, who was arrested here on Saturday on charges of forgery after a chase over a large part of China and into Russia, was bound over for trial in the United States Court for China under bond of G.$2,000 yesterday by U. S. Commissioner N. E. Lurton. He waived preliminary hearing when he was called to answer the charge in the Commissioner's court.

Armstrong was employed in Shanghai last summer and while here is alleged to have forged a check, cashed it, and then disappeared. Clues led all over China and finally to Vladivostok, where he was arrested by United States Consul Winslow and put on board the U. S. S. Helena, due to touch at Shanghai en route to Manila. The Helena's sailing orders were changed and Armstrong was transferred to the U. S. S. Sacramento and held for safe-keeping.

Complications immediately ensued. An American official could not go to Russia and bring Armstrong out without the consent of the Russian authorities and the Russian government is not recognised by the United States. It looked as though he would be held on the Sacramento until that vessel received orders to sail. Then a week ago Armstrong was suddenly shifted to the Shin Lee just before it sailed and brought direct to Shanghai without touching Russian and Chinese territory and Armstrong was placed under arrest by Deputy United States Marshal Van Buskirk.

Lett Is Sentenced For Trying To Sell Morphia To Chinese

Previous Offender Will Serve Five Months

Ernest Salzberg, a Lett living at 42 Haining Road, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment by Assessor Mead and Magistrate Li of the Mixed Court yesterday for being in possession of a pound of morphia and was in addition ordered to serve a four months' suspended sentence imposed on him for threatened murder and assault eight months ago.

Salzberg was arrested on Woochang Road Sunday by a Chinese constable after an unknown Chinese had informed the latter that a foreigner was trying to sell morphine. Salzberg told the Court that he had been given the morphine to sell to Chinese by a friend, whose name he did not know. He pleaded ignorance of the regulations and the Assessor said that a fine of $100 or sentence of one month's imprisonment would be imposed. Attention was then called by the police to the defendant's previous conviction and the Court ordered that the five months' term be served.

Texas Company Busy With Overhauling Of 22 U. S. Destroyers

Man From Texas Looks After The Lubricating Systems

The present visit of the U. S. Destroyer Fleet may mean a round of pleasure and jollification for some, but to the employees of The Texas Company it has meant overtime work aplenty.

Each ship, 22 in all, is having its lubricating oil system overhauled and this work is in charge of The Texas Company. One of the obligations of The Texas Company is to see that the U. S. Navy is in fighting trim as far as their lubricating oils are concerned, and in meeting this obligation the company has not been found wanting.

Wherever a gunboat, destroyer, or cruiser puts in an appearance a representative of The Texas Company gets aboard to give the ship's lubricating oil system a general overhauling. It is with a source of pride that the officials of the Company look to this duty as one satisfactorily fulfilled over a number of years.

HURON TRIMS BLACKHAWK IN ONE-SIDED GAME, 9 TO 4

By Westa

Scymanski at bat

JOHN JAMES AUDUBON, the great ornithologist once remarked that the chief difference between the Blackhawk and the Hooron is that the former is distinguished by an unrelenting savagery while the latter is characterised by its great intelligence and sly cunning.

Mr. Audubon had the right hunch, ample proof of which was supplied yesterday afternoon at the racetrack baseball grounds, when these two birds, the savage Blackhawk and the wily, resourceful Hooron became tangled in another attempt on each other's life.

"Our best bet," said the Hoorons to each other in a council of war previous to the battle, "is to spring some music on these birds. Music is reputed to have charms that pacify the savage chest, and that being the case we will trot out the ship band to jazz them down to our size, and then step in and yank their tail feathers out by the roots."

This was good strategy. The Blackhawks were out there pawing the air with their freshly sharpened claws and pecking holes in the concrete driveway with their beaks, just by way of getting their dander up for the Hoorons. And then, just as they were all good and mad, and so savage that it was all they could do to keep from clawing each other while waiting for the Hoorons the band got busy with "Kiss Me Again and Again And A Million Times More," or some such mushy lyric, the strains of which, floating out across the field, transformed the savage and rampageous Blackhawks into a flock of cooing turtle doves, just as the Hoorons figured, whereupon the latter stepped in and yanked their tail feathers out by the roots.

JOHN JAMES WAS RIGHT

Does this not show that the Hooron knows how to use its bean as well as its beak? And does it not also show that Mr. Audobon's reputation as a naturalist is well deserved?

Yea, bo, it do indeed!

The score was 9 to 4.

Scymanski and Co. got off to an early start in the scrap yesterday, due partly to good clouting on their part, and partly to the loose fielding work of the Blackhawks, who were all upset, apparently, by the "Kiss Me Again" stuff that the band kept shooting at them. In the first, with two on and two down, the Hurons scored both when Adkins, who started on the mound for the hawks, allowed an easy roller to get away from him for what would have been the third out. For that miscue he was yanked, and Sharp, who heaves them from what Maloney calls the "Protestant" side, sent in. The side wheeler pitched good ball, but there were too many errors back of him. The hawks had switched their infield, but the changes didn't seem to do much good.

SKEE CHOKES A RALLY

In the fifth the Blackhawks got one on with nobody down, and were all set for a rally. But just then the gobulous Mr. Scymanski snatched a liner out of the air that was sizzling past his station like a bullet, and whipped it to Lex, at second, from where the shortstopper relayed it to Flowers for a lightning double play. That seemed to take the whizz out of the hawks, as nothing more was heard from them in an offensive way until the ninth, when they issued invitations to a hitting bee that proved a very popular party to all concerned except Skee's gang. They were finally stopped after they had driven over four runs by some consecutive smacks that had the young and handsome Mr. Neal thinking that some miscreant had supplied the opposition with flat sided cricket mallets. The whistling of this flock of clouts, as they shot over the heads of the Huron infield, drowned out the band temporarily.

"Har, har!" chirped the Blackhawks, "you wanted music—how do you like that?"

The box score follows:

Baseball Today!

This afternoon, at the race track, the Huron will play a picked team from the Destroyer divisions now in port. This ought to be a rattling good game, as the Destroyers have some excellent talent aboard. Tackett, the big right hander, will pitch for the Hurons. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Sunday's Contest Ends In 4-4 Tie

Maloney's Maulers, the team of former Shanghai players that Mal got together for a game with the Huron Sunday, battled the flagshippers to a ten inning 4 to 4 tie, much to everybody's surprise. Mal, who pitched for the homesters, was in fine fettle, holding the hard hitting Hurons to seven blows. Walter Holliday, at third, put up a fine game for Mal's crew, as did Bruce behind the bat. This bird is a stylish workman and all the ol' timers who were out there wished, as they watched him, that he could have played regularly with Shanghai in the season just closed. We would have copped a lot more games if we could have had his services. The box score:

Baseball Notes

BY WESTA

The rampageous Scymanski was eating 'em alive again yesterday. In the first he made a grab of a high foul that should be recorded in the hall of "Greatest Catches." To get this one Skee ploughed through a flock of gobs that were standing along the third base line, leaped over an iron seat, and raced across the road to the site of the old club house. "No can," the other Huron infielders yelled at him as he started after the ball, but "No can" is a branch of pidgin English that Skee has not yet learned, despite his numerous visits to this and other parts of China where that phrase is linguistic legal tender.

At bat, Skee was a demon, and nothing less. Every time up he busted one to the deepest part of the rhubarbs, the last one being so far back that little Provost, playing left for the hawks, actually backed up against the golf club house to get it. On two occasions he slammed over the outfielders' heads, despite the fact that they were playing so far back that it took three relays to return the ball to the infield.

Bouvier engineered a double play in the fourth that was so fast that it was some time before the gobs on the sideline knew what had happened. With one down and runners on second and third the Blackhawk shortstop, who was playing close in for a play at the plate, speared a liner and in the same instant shot the ball to third. It was all so fast that the runner, who had started with the crack of the bat, didn't have a chance to get back.

Flowers, captain and first baseman of the Hurons, puts up a fine game at first, despite the fact that he is so short he has to stand on tip toe so the flagship cook can see him when passing out the diamond back terrapin, and the caviar, and the filet mignon, and the avacados, and the pate de foie gras, and the Bar le duc with toasted saltines, and the Mumm's extra dry, and the Havana perfectos and other such hash that constitutes the daily bill of fare on the Huron. Besides being a good ball player he injects a lot of pep into his teammates. May he never wilt!

Maloney was out there again, nobody having provided the necessary log chains and wild horses to keep him away. If Mal had had a grandstand seat for Pickett's charge, and somebody had told him that Meade's reserves had started a ball game back of the lines he would have left the battle of Gettysburg flat on its back.

Rex, the Huron shortstopper, made a grab of Bouvier's grounder in the second yesterday that was almost an exact duplicate of that hair raiser that Freddy Bills stopped in one of the games against the Marines. He raced back of second, scooped the ball on the run, and shot it to Flowers while still off balance. A swell play.

In the Blackhawk half of the ninth Menger, Provost, Fritch and Sharp drove out successive singles after two were out. Bouvier, next up, tried his durndest to keep the rally alive, but Neal whiffed him.

GIANTS WIN FIFTH GAME; NEED ONE MORE FOR TITLE

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 9.—The Giants won the fifth game in the world's series yesterday. The Yankees were beaten by a score of 5-3.

(China Press Service)

Polo Grounds, New York City, Oct. 8.—Big George McQuillan, the Giants' great infield, and a batting rally in the fifth inning which netted four runs, brought about the third trouncing for the New York Yankees yesterday and made the National League champions two-to-one favorites for another world's title. The score was 4-3, brilliant baseball stemming a threatening rally in the sensational ninth inning, and stellar infield play, which accounted for three lightning double plays, holding the Yankees to three runs, one of which was a screaming home run by second baseman Ward.

The Yankees started out with a vengeance clouting four hits in the opening session off McQuillan, and scoring two runs. Then the Giants' hurler settled down and the American League champs got but one hit in the next six innings, this being Ward's circuit bang. Witt doubled in the eighth but was left stranded when Babe Ruth popped to Frisch and the Yankees hit safely twice in the last inning, only to see their threatening rally nipped.

Carl Mays, the Submarine twirler, was the American League choice to turn back the Giants in the fourth start and he went like a house afire until the fifth when the Giants fell upon him for five hits. Snyder, Bancroft and Young singled and McQuillan doubled in this inning.

The following is the detailed story of the game:

FIRST INNING

Giants—Bancroft led off with a single and went to second when Henie Groh was thrown out by Mays. Frisch hit a high one which was glommed by Meusel in left. Mesuel was thrown out by Scott. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Witt and Dugan both singled. Cunningham made a wonderful catch of Ruth's long hit to deep center, nabbing the ball a few feet from the bleachers. Had the ball gone the few feet further, the clout would have been an easy homer. On the fly, Witt went to third but Dugan was held at first. Witt scored on Pipp's crashing single but Pipp was out trying to stretch the hit, Frisch nailing Pipp at second on Cunningham's perfect throw. Dugan went to third on the play and scored on Meusel's hot liner to right, Meusel stole second and went to third on Snyder's bad throw, the peg to second going clear to center field while Meusel raced to third. Schang ended the inning by fanning. TWO RUNS, FOUR HITS, ONE ERROR.

SECOND INNING

Giants—Meusel got Young's long fly. Mays threw Kelly out at first. Cunningham drew four wide ones but Dugan made a beautiful play on Snyder's hard grounder and Snyder was out at first. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—The Yankees half started with pouring rain. Ward flied to Young. Bancroft threw Scott out at first. Frisch got Mays at first. Each Yankee batter hit the first ball pitched. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING

Giants—McQuillan dropped one in front of the plate and Schang got him at first with a perfect throw. Bancroft was passed. Groh and Frisch were both out on flies to the outfield, Meusel getting Groh and Ruth getting Frisch. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Cunningham made a nice catch of Witt's fly. Groh got Dugan at first. McQuillan thought Ruts was due and the Babe was given four wide ones. Pipp flied out to Young. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

FOURTH INNING

Giants—Meusel grounded to Dugan and was out at first. Young singled past Pipp but was forced when the Yankee first sacker took Kelly's grounder and threw to Everett Scott. Kelly flied the same way, with Ward starting the forceout killing. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Meusel fanned. Schang flied to Young. McQuillan again demonstrated brilliant twirling, by fanning Ward. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

FIFTH INNING

Giants—Rain still falling steadily. Snyder singled and McQuillan doubled to left, Snyder going to third. Both scored on Bancroft's single, which hopped over Ward's head. Groh singled and Bancroft went on down. Frisch moved both runners along with a perfect sacrifice, Mays getting the runner at first. Meusel threw out Ward on a fast play but Bancroft scored and Henie went to third, the latter tallying on Young's safety to left field. Young was caught off first by a quick throw from Mays to Pipp, Scott getting in the play when Young was run down on the base line, Pipp making the putout which ended the disastrous inning. FOUR RUNS, FIVE HITS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Scott walked but Mays fouled out to Kelly and Witt hit into a lightning double play, Frisch to Bancroft to Kelly. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

SIXTH INNING

Giants—Kelly lined to Witt. Cunningham was thrown out by Dugan. With two down, Snyder singled to left field but McQuillan struck out. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, ONE ERROR.

Yankees—Dugan popped to Frisch. Snyder got Ruth's high foul. Pipp died. Bancroft to Kelly. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

SEVENTH INNING

Giants—Bancroft out on a fly to Meusel. Groh rolled to Pipp and the latter touched the bag. Witt got Frisch's fly. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Groh threw out Meusel. Groh laid down a bunt and was thrown out by Schang. Ward hit a long one into the left field bleachers, his second home run of the series. Scott flied to Bancroft. ONE RUN, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

EIGHTH INNING

Giants—Meusel singled over second. Young flied to Meusel and was out. Pipp took Kelly's grounder, touched first base and then threw to Scott, who touched Meusel as he was trying to make second. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees—Elmer Smith was sent to bat to pinch hit for Mays and McQuillan promptly fanned him. Witt doubled to left and Dugan flied out to Cunningham, putting the issue squarely up to Ruth. The Yankee supporters pleaded for a home run but the King of Swat responded with a high fly that Frisch glommed without difficulty back of second. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

NINTH INNING

Giants.—Jones relieved Mays on the mound for the Yankees and retired the side in order. Cunningham flied out to Witt, Snyder popped to Scott at shortstop and McQuillan flied to Witt and was out. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Yankees.—Two safe hits, one of them a double, failed to hat the Yankees the run needed to tie in a sensational ninth inning. Pipp led off with a screaming two bagger to right field, Young's fast fielding holding Pipp to two sacks on the clout. Meusel hit to Groh and the latter, after a bluff throw to first, caught Pipp off second and he was run down, Groh to Bancroft. Meusel being safe at first on the play. Wally Schang singled to left, sending Meusel to third. But Schang was out when he tried to stretch the safety, Cunningham throwing to Bancroft to head off Meusel and Bancroft snapping the ball back to Frank Frisch, who got Schang on a close play at second. Ward ended the game with a long fly to Meusel in left and the Giants had three of the five games necessary to hold the world's title.

WARDER MURDERED

An English warder in the Straits jails named Fish was found dead in his quarters at Taiping with a gaping wound in his body and his neck broken on October 4, according to messages from Singapore.

Another warder named Rice and Fish's cook have been arrested as it is alleged that Fish and Rice quarreled at the Club and later continued the quarrel at their quarters just before Fish was found murdered.

Washington Envoy To Tokio May Quit

(China Press Service)

Washington, Oct. 8.—Word has just been received here that Hon. Charles B. Warren, United States Ambassador to Japan contemplates resigning. Mr. Warren has served the United States during an important period and that now that the pressure of events has relaxed to some extent his work is not so vital. For other reasons also, which are said to be entirely personal, Mr. Warren desires to return to the United States as soon as possible.

Spot bar silver was up 1-16d and forward ⅛d in London on Saturday. The New York price is unchanged and the London-New York cross rate advanced to 442¼.

The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Gold Dollar rate to 76¼.

Our market here in the morning was fairly steady, there being sellers of Sterling at 3s. 6½d. for all deliveries up to China New Year and 76½ for forward delivery. Some business was done slightly higher than these rates.

However, in the afternoon the market turned weak, speculators being strong buyers and banks continually lowering their selling rates and at the close there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3s. 5¼d. for any delivery and of Gold Dollars at 76¾.

There were sellers of Yen for forward delivery at 63¼ and buyers at 63⅛.

While in the morning banks were quoting 3s. 6¼d. for Sterling bills, 78 for Gold Dollar bills and 1035 for Franc bills, in the afternoon they were offering to buy Sterling bills at 3s. 6⅛d., Gold Dollar bills at 77¾ and Franc bills at 1030.

India bought a small amount of silver in London Saturday and the market is reported as having closed steady. There was nothing doing in the New York silver market.

TO REOPEN PALACE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct 6.—The Ministry of the Interior has proposed and the President has approved the appointment of a Commission to arrange for the opening of the three sections of the Winter Palace (Shanhai). A member of the Presidential Staff will be on the Commission.

Mistakes That Mothers Make.

Many mothers give their children solid food at too early an age and say proudly that their babies "eat everything that grown up people do," when such a course is almost certain to bring on indigestion and to lay the foundation of much ill-health.

Others administer harsh nauseating purgatives, and thus make the little ones fear medicine, at the same time irritating and injuring their delicate stomachs and bowels.

Absolutely no meat should be given a child until it has reached the age of 18 months, and then only if approved of by the doctor. For medicine, all strong disagreeable draughts and oils should be abandoned and Baby's Own Tablets substituted instead.

Baby's Own Tablets are especially made for children's use and can be given with absolute safety to even the youngest infant. They reduce fever, cure colic and indigestion, dispel constipation, check diarrhoea, relieve croup and colds, allay teething troubles, and promptly bring health-giving restful sleep in a natural way.

Chemists sell Baby's Own Tablets, or sent post free, 60 cents per vial, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Floods In India Over 1500 Sq. Miles

(Reuter's Service)

Calcutta, Oct. 8.—Fifteen hundred square miles and 1,500,000 people are affected by the floods in North Bengal. The loss of life appears to be relatively small but many cattle have perished and crops been destroyed, also many villages. Thousands of halfstarved persons are taking refuge on railway embankments and other high ground, and are bing maintained by relief funds and Government grants. The floods have begun to subside but an immense area is still inundated. The outbreak of disease, especially cholera, is feared as the waters abate owing to the putrefaction of the carcasses of cattle.

Urge Governor To Leave Immediately

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 5.—It is understood that both Paotingfu and Loyang are urging that Mr. Hsieh Yuan-han, the Government's nominee as Civil Governor of Kiangsi, should leave at once to take up his post at Nanchang. Mr. Hsieh, who is in Peking, has not however, given any intimation that he is about to depart.

CHOLERA IN TOKIO

Tokio, Oct. 8.—Over 100 cases of cholera with 25 deaths are reported in Tokio. It is the worst epidemic of the dread disease since the bad epidemic in 1915.

The Chinese National Holiday

BY Y K. VOONG

(Superintendent Grace Baptist Church Sunday School, Shanghai.)

TODAY is the Chinese National Holiday. It is a day of rejoicing and a day of celebration. The Chinese Community of Shanghai and throughout China and abroad will enthusiastically celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the Republic. A blaze of the five-barred banner of the Republic throughout the Settlements and in Chinese territory; an outturning of people, with seas of banners whipping the breeze in every roadway; hongs and shops elaborately dressed with bunting, spectacular and gorgeously colorful lanterns and electric light displays; a review of the Chinese Company S.V.C., a Boy Scouts Parade; official and informal receptions, brilliant dinner parties and dancing; a spirit of reverence and homage; meetings of different organisations, including the singing of Chinese national songs and the furnishing of patriotic music; the despatching of telegrams to Peking expressing hope for the success of the unification of North and South, or the expulsion of the present Peking government, or the abolition of the Tuchunate, or the disbandment of the soldiery, or the protection of China's sovereignty and integrity from foreign aggression, or the development of trade and communications, or education or any number of other measures—all measures essential.

This day each year takes on a fresh and broader significance to the Chinese people, because it could not be otherwise if we are progressing as we believe. The Chinese Republic was brought forth as a union with the five-barred banner as a symbol—the beautiful rainbow flag. It has five colors, red, yellow, blue, white, and black, which stand for the five tribes in our country. Red stands for China Proper and its Dependencies. Yellow stands for the Manchurias. Blue stands for the Outer Mongolias. White stands for the Mohammedans, and Black stands for Thibet.

Since the Revolution of 1911 or since first the nation made the decision to shake off the robe of the Monarchial regime, our Government has been continually embroiled in internal and external difficulties, weathering serious crises both internally and abroad—crises which have ended with great potential possibilities of real progress. In the past 11 years the sufferings of the people and the losses to the country have been exceedingly great. The repeated fightings which have taken place during recent years have caused tremendous military expenses; the excessive borrowing of foreign money has proved highly detrimental to the nation's finance and economy; and the stagnation of commerce and industry and the neglect of education of the country's youth —these losses are beyond computation.

Generally speaking, there is no government in China. Theoretically there are two governments, one ruling in the city of Peking and the other in the city of Canton, but actually there is no Government, since every official does as he pleases and every militarist takes what he can of the public revenue. A country cannot exist without some Government. There must be a machine to keep things in order. That machine with us is rusted and broken down and the entire people suffer. The Government of China should bear all the responsibilities whatever crises come within and without, but with her selfishness, greed, and the lure of personal aggrandisement upon the part of scheming officials, politicians, self-centered governors and occupiers of government posts, a combination of deplorable characteristics that has resulted in the diversion of the public funds from the channels of national improvement and advancement to uses personal and illegal, has brought great injury and suffering to the people as a whole, and placed the country in danger of destruction. China has been crushed under colossal weights both from without and from within and is now distorted and bleeding. There are enemies without but the greatest danger is from within. It is because you are divided, brother against brother, clan against clan, province against province, North against South. Cats and dogs. If China stood united she need fear nothing. She could face the world. Then no one would be talking about loss of territory or about enslavement or about chaos and ruin.

There are two roads before every individual, i.e., the up road or down road, good or evil. The up road or good road leads to sober, honest, upright lives, to the growth of adaptability, democracy, fraternity, sociability, characterised by reality, virility, love, joy, peace, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law; characteristic generosity, breadth of vision, breadth of sympathy with men, loyalty to country and the doing of duty truthfully and manfully. Goodness outranks even uprightness, because the good man aims to do good to others. Uprightness is the beauty of integrity; goodness is the loveliness of benevolence.

The down road or the evil road leads to selfishness, greed, pride, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulation, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, perpetual struggle for even the necessities of life and such like. The Bible says: "Let us not be desirous of vainglory, provoking one another, envying one another."

Nations, like individuals, will continue to be selfish and seek to profit themselves at the expense of weaker neighbors. There are two roads before China. This one leads to chaos and ruin the worst the world has ever known, to slavery, want and woe forever.

The other road leads to a reunited, a prosperous and a powerful people, which would save all the world while saving itself and bring back the old days when China was the leader and the teacher of the nations. And this very road will help us up beyond the grandeur of the past, to the heights of republican glory, to the leadership of Asia, the inspiration of the Orient, and make us at once the oldest and the youngest of the nations.

By far the most momentous question that has come before the nation since the eventful days of the Revolution of 1911, and one that is fraught with tremendous possibilities for the Chinese Republic is the spirit of self-government and self-determination. What is the remedy to save China during this critical moment of unrest and crisis—and what China most needs at present, and the time is ripe to supply this need, is a strong central government, government "of the people, by the people, for the people," honest, sincere, perfect union; provision for the common defence. Let us promote the general welfare, insure domestic tranquility, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity. Let our action be based solely upon the will of the people with a respect for the law of the land, that we may ordain and establish this constitution for the Chinese Republic.

The greatest weakness of the present government is that it lacks a representative parliament composed of unassailable spokesmen from all the provinces. Personal power has been defeated in all sections of the world governments "of the people, by the people, for the people" through an orderly system of self-imposed legal institutions.

We are accustomed to say that our great sister Republic, the United States of America is "a government of the people, by the people, for the people." It is largely in this, its broad, comprehensive, and democratic character that they so often venture to hold it up to view as a model which might be copied by the surrounding nations of the West and particularly by the youngest nation of the East to our very great advantage and benefit. Unquestionably, since the government is formed by its citizens, it can only be maintained by its citizens. Offices thus created must be filled, and the ship of state must be manned, and manned with a careful, honest, and patriotic crew, or it will be in danger of total wreck.

The citizen must share the risks of his country, as well as its benefits. He must be willing to give protection to the rights and interests of his fellows, or he cannot rightly expect protection for his own. The public service is not only for times of war and tumult, but also for times of peace and prosperity.

For patriotism, my dear fellow-countrymen, is in my mind not merely a sentiment, but a certain kind of natural ebullition, which ought to be permitted to those who allow their hearts to speak in today's celebration of the glory and majesty of their country, but the country can have no glory and no majesty unless there be a deep principle and conviction back of the enthusiasm. It is enthusiasm that makes nations strong and prosperous, keeps nations fresh, hopeful, joyous. Enthusiasm is the element of success in everything. It is the light that leads, and the strength that lifts nations on and up in the great scientific pursuits and professional labors. It robs endurance of difficulty, and makes a pleasure of duty. Enthusiasm has been well called the "lover of the world;" for it sets in motion, if it does not control, the grandest revolutions!

Patriotism is a principle and a privilege, not a mere sentiment. Patriotism is one of the first and most fundamental characteristics in the building of any nation. Patriotism is defined by Noah Webster as "the passion which aims to serve one's country." It is love of our native or adopted land, because it is to us the best land, and therefore most worthy to survive. It is not merely natural to be patriotic, but it is also reasonable and right. Ex-President Wilson of the U. S. of America once said: "No man can be a true patriot who does not feel himself shot through and through with a deep ardor for what his country stands for, what its existence means, what its purpose is declared to be in its history and in its policy."

Dear readers, the writer has mentioned in his last article in this valuable paper entitled "Today's Harvest Moon Festival And Christianity" that China needs different kinds of men. I am going to tell you the further classes of men that are the crying need of China today. China calls for men of public spirit; for men who will seek the highest welfare of their fellow-citizens in general; men of broad and generous views; men who look out upon life with an absence of that littleness and near-sightedness which cannot distinguish between public good and private interest; men of ability and training to organise her infant industries; men of managerial ability to manage her corporations and factories; expert bankers and economists to help finance those industries; leading engineers to construct railroads and canals for fast transportation; scientific farmers to produce the maximum of raw material and foodstuffs.

Moreover, she calls for men and women with strong Christian convictions and noble ideals, for missionaries and ministers to spread the gospel of love and life, for Christian workers in other fields, for it is religion that can be practiced in every day life that is needed.

Still further, she calls for physicians who will heal the patients, not to gain wealth merely, but to relieve the suffering of their brethren, for lawyers who will fight for justice and not for pelf, for business men who are not ruled by the passion of greed and selfishness, for statesmen and officials who are willing to serve the people, and for educators who will consecrate themselves to the noble task of bettering the social and intellectual environment of their fellow-countrymen. This is the kind of men that China needs and calls for urgently. You, who are able to help her, have you heard the call? Or, are you willing to answer the call? If so, come right now, on this our National Day, the Tenth of October. Blessed is he who can say, "Here am I, send me."

Our foreign friends describe China as nervous. Yet our reconstruction and reorganisation is proceeding vigorously and fundamentally. I am going to tell you briefly something of China as I see it today. There is a social China, and books have been written about it; there is a commercial China, and pamphlets have described it; there is a political China and newspapers have followed it. Is it possible in some measure for the West somehow to grasp the East? Can anyone affirm, after long years of residence in China, that now we know something of its inner working? Can anyone say confidently "there's China," and briefly, intelligently, clearly describe it? Some who professedly knew China well, steeped in Chinese lore, versed in Chinese literature, acquainted with Chinese travel, said China was all right when somehow she was clearly all wrong.

China of today is the Changing China. The old China is the China of yesterday; the new China is the China of tomorrow. The China of yesterday was a China of peaceful prosperity and dynamic solidarity; the China of today is a China of gruesome and ignominious corruption. China today is in transition from the old to the new. The old China is passing and the new China is coming into life. Yes, we have Changing China and Real China, Old China, and Revolutionary China, and Convulsed China. "Rome was not built in a day," nor the Republic of China realised in a day, or a year, or a decade. Changes which would not have taken place in 40 or 50 years under the old government have taken place and are taking place. Let us begin today to function positively instead of negatively. Let this be our motto "In Unity We Stand; In Co-operation We Achieve." A great fundamental principle underlies every endeavor in "Co-operation." Co-operation first and Co-operation last. Difficulties and misunderstandings usually spring from lack of contact. But the principle of co-operation as applied to individuals and groups in any line is equally applicable nationally and internationally and in the various relations of men.

The motto of every good citizen should be, "the best means to promote the greatest good to the greatest number." Again, let this be our working motto "Good, better, best. Never let it rest! Until the good is better, and the better best!"

Diphtheria—How It May Be Avoided.

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the culture beds, which form in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of contracting infectious diseases.

FACING MORAL WELFARE FACTS

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: Since Mr. Gordius Neilsen has made use of your columns to reply to a letter of mine I should like to use a little space in your paper to reply once to his reply.

First of all I quite agree in deprecating the present-day tendency to postpone marriage till long after physical maturity. There are other ways to get bread besides stealing it.

I do not care to emphasise the fact that Mr. Neilsen says I assert what I have not asserted: nor the fact that he withdraws from what seemed to be his position in his first letter; nor that he fails to distinguish between "illicit relation" and "commercialised vice," the latter of which is the object of attack by the Moral Welfare League.

But I should like to emphasise how wrong he is when he implies that in dealing with the "social evil" we are restricted to two alternatives — "segregation and supervision, or dispersion and non-supervision." He entirely ignores the most important method of dealing with the evil, namely, suppression.

Of course I freely admit that suppression has not been, and perhaps cannot be, completely enforced. It is also true that robbery with violence, which has an excellent claim to be considered "the oldest profession in the world," has never been completely suppressed, even in the most highly civilised community. But society keeps on trying to suppress it. What is more to the point, perhaps, is that, so far as we are able to learn, segregation and regulation of commercialised vice have never been completely enforced. In those cities of Europe most noted for their system of "reglementation" the number of known but not registered prostitutes vastly exceeds the number of those registered and segregated. As far as the cry "It can't be done" applies, it applies equally to both segregation and supression.

As to effectiveness in reducing disease, the difference between the two systems is not so great as is often supposed, but the difference is in favor of suppression, even though imperfectly carried out. Besides which, suppression has the advantage of removing the government from partnership in the lowest profession in the world.

May I add that all the correspondence that I have seen in the local papers in defence of commercialised vice, or its regulation, tends to confirm me in the opinion expressed in my first letter published under the above heading namely that the Shanghai public does not know what has been done and learned about this problem in other parts of the world during the twentieth century. We have had too much discussion about what human nature will or will not do, and too little consideration of what has been done.

Even leaving the moral question aside, if Mr. Neilsen or anyone else can bring forward a scheme that has been shown to be more effective in controlling disease than suppression of commercialised vice, I can assure him that the Moral Welfare League will welcome it. But the committee can hardly be expected to take any body's guess on the subject, when it contradicts the best books on the matter, such as some members of the League have been studying for years. Yours truly

J. W. Crofoot.
Treasurer, Moral Welfare League.

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

The Worlds In The Sky

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest

A Scoutmaster in Detroit asks at what time in the evening, and in what part of the sky a person should look to find the planets which are visible to the naked eye. With the exception of Venus and Mars, the four great planets which were conspicuous in the evening sky during mid-Summer, are now (about the middle of September) too near the sun to be easily or well seen.

Taking them in the order of their apparent, or angular, distance from the sun, Saturn is in the Constellation Virgo, some 12 degrees north of west from the bright star Spica. It is virtually lost in the sunset.

Jupiter is about 11 degrees south of east from Saturn, and only a few degrees north of Spica. If the western sky is clear, both the star and Jupiter may be seen as soon after sunset as the twilight has faded. Although Spica is usually reckoned as a first magnitude star, its great temporary neighbor, Jupiter, outshines it about six-fold, being at present two magnitudes brighter.

Each advance of one magnitude involves an increase of about two and a half times in brilliancy. But, in reality, Spica is a giant sun while Juptier is only a planet shining by reflecting the light of our relatively insignificant sun.

The explanation of the apparent difference in brightness is found in the fact that the distance of Jupiter is only about 585 millions of miles, while that of Spica is many millions of millions, and the intensity of light diminishes as the square of the increase of distance.

Venus, the queen of the evening, is about 15 degrees east of Jupiter and below the feet of Virgo, which may be figured as standing upon the beam of Libra, the Balance. Venus is now at her greatest elongation east of the sun, which means that she will hereafter retrace her way westward, or sunward, and will set earlier every night.

She is not yet at her greatest degree of brilliancy, for she is still approaching the earth, as she begins to swing in between it and the sun. Her present distance from the earth is 63,000,000 miles, but on October 21, when she attains her greatest brilliancy, she will be only 38,680,000 miles away. After that she will continue to draw nearer to the earth, at the same time, of course, approaching the line from the earth to the sun, and on November 25 she will be only about 24,700,000 miles from us. But she will then be invisible, although to her inhabitants the earth will shine in her midnight sky far more brilliantly than she ever appears to us.

If she really is inhabited, and if her inhabitants are as far progressed in science as we are, that is the time when they might be expected at least to think about trying to communicate with us. The reason why Venus attains her greatest brilliancy as seen from the earth before her nearest approach is that, her orbit being interior to the earth's, she presents phases similar to those of the moon, only a part of her sun-illuminated hemisphere being presented toward the earth as she swings in between the earth and the sun, and that part becoming relatively smaller as she approaches the line joining the earth and the sun.

During all the time from her moment of greatest brilliancy until she gets too nearly in line with the sun to be seen, she presents the form of a luminous crescent which grows longer but rapidly narrower. The great brilliancy occurs when the total area of the crescent is largest.

Mars is some 55 degrees east of Venus, in the constellation Sagittarius, and crosses the meridian between six and seven o'clock in the evening. Mars is almost directly south of the brilliant white star Vega in the constellation Lyra, which transits the meridian near the zenith at the time above mentioned. The glory of the "planet of war" has much faded since the splendid appearance that he presented during the Summer, but his red gare still draws attention.

His distance, which was not much more than forty-two millions miles on June 18, has now increased to 75,000,000, and he is still retreating. It will become 145,000,000 miles by the end of the year.

Venus will take her departure from the evening sky on November 25; Mars will hold on until next year; Saturn will depart October 4, and Jupiter October 23. But as early as December 30 Venus will already have reached her point of greatest brilliancy in the morning sky, and during the opening months of 1923 Jupiter and Saturn will be conspicuous in the sparkling skies of the icy Winter mornings, and together with Venus will warm the hearts of early risers.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which is poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

800 Silversmiths Still Are On Strike

Over 800 gold and silver smiths were still on strike yesterday, the employing guilds refusing to meet the workers' demands for increased pay and improved working conditions.

The employers have issued circulars declaring that the men are better paid and have better working conditions than any other artisans in China, but this attempt to get the men back to work has failed.

Japanese Princess Taken For Tour Of Shanghai Harbor

Daughter Of Emperor Entertained While Here

Escorted by Consul-General and Mrs. Funatsu and other prominent members of the local Japanese colony, the Princess Fusako Kitashirakawa, seventh daughter of the Emperor of Japan, made a trip around the Shanghai harbor Sunday morning on the N. Y. K. tender Kinryo Maru.

In the afternoon the Princess was entertained by the presentation, aboard the Hakone Maru, of a Chinese play. The Princess is a passenger aboard the Hakone Maru, bound for Marseilles, where she will join her husband. She is the first Japanese lady of royal blood to make such a sea voyage. The Hakone sailed yesterday forenoon.
